City Council Reverses Planning Group In Edgemere Expansion

By Gunnar Norberg

In a startling 4-to-1 decision, the City Council last night reversed a unanimous ruling made last month by the City Planning Commission.

The point at issue was an appeal made to the City Council by the owners of Edgemere Cottages, located in a residential area, whose request to increase the building coverage as well as kitchen and dining facilities while remodeling two motel units, had been unanimously denied by city planning commissioners.

Last night's Council action reverses that denial and directs the planners to "reconsider" the Edgemere request which they had previously turned down.

Unanimous decisions by city commissions are rarely appealed to higher authority, and the reversal of such unanimously made decisions is an even less likely result.

But reversal was just what happened last night.

And a good deal more appeared to be at stake than simply the reversal of the unanimous commission decision in the individual Edgemere case.

The Council action could theoretically open a whole Pandora's box of similar requests from other recently legalized motels in Carmel residential areas, and it was taken in the face of opposite views not only by the entire City Planning Commission in the Edgemere case, but also in the face of opposite views expressed by Admiral C. W. Fisher, head of the Carmel Citizens' Committee orally before the Planning Commission last month, and only two days before last night's Council meeting in a letter from the committee's board of directors to the Commission. This letter said in part:

"The Carmel Citizens' Committee when making the decision to support Ordinance 156, did so in the belief that the present motels (in residential areas) would not be expanded. In spite of the conditional use permits which are now granted, these businesses are intrusions on the residential nature of their locations. They should not be granted the right to become greater intrusions. . . ."

The letter goes on to suggest that new language, making the Citizens' Committee's views crystal clear, should be inserted in the existing governing law.

This added language should say unequivocally that total enclosed floor space used for guest accommodations shall not be exceeded by remodeling or reconstruction.

Last night's Council action was all the more surprising because the two councilmen who initiated the motion which reversed the Planning Commission decision had been strongly supported last spring both by the City Planning Commission and by the Carmel Citizens' Committee in advocating voter approval of the disputed Ordinance 156, which was supposed to prevent any further expansion of motels in the residential district of Carmel.

These two councilmen were Herbert Blanks and Eben Whittlesey, who moved and seconded the motion to reverse the Planning Commission denial of the Edgemere expansion request. They were joined in the vote for the motion by Councilman Ken Brown and—with what seemed some reluctance—by Mayor Barney Laiolo.

The only "no" vote was cast by Councilman Frank Falge.

Next word in the Edgemere matter will come when the City Planning Commission "reconsiders" it—as it was ordered last night to do.

In other action, the Council decided to purchase new seats for the entire Sunset Auditorium at a cost of $33,665. The purchase would be made outright, rather than on a delayed lease-purchase basis.

The hope was expressed that contributions from private donors for the enhancement of Sunset would begin to come in, so that city funds now to be used for seat purchase could be replaced.

The thought was expressed that each $50 contribution, which would be tax deductible, would entitle the giver to have his name placed on one of the new seats to be installed at Sunset.

Mayor Laiolo appointed Elise Beaton to replace the late Donald Craig on the Library Board, and he re-appointed Francis Lloyd and Pat Sippel to the same Board.

Regret was expressed that the small annexation proposed by Edward Neroda could not be processed because of objections from owners involved in it.

The Carmel Forestry Commission, the life of which was due to expire at the end of this month, was extended to Dec. 31, 1972.

An ordinance intended to reduce double parking by trucks in the business district of the city, was given first reading. The ordinance, which may present difficult enforcement problems, states that "it shall be unlawful to double park any commercial vehicle on the South or West side of any street in the commercial district, excluding Ocean and Junipero avenues."

A thick booklet, held up by City Attorney William Burleigh for councilmen to view, and identified as Subdivision Ordinance 187, was

Crafts, Art As One-of-a-Kind Gift Items

Top ranking artists and craftsmen of the Monterey Peninsula and Northern California are joining together to bring a unique pre-Christmas show to Carmel on Dec. 6, 7, and 8. Saturday and Sunday the hours will be from noon until 10 p.m. All are cordially invited to attend any of the three nights at the La Playa Hotel, Carmel, Camino Real & Eighth.

"39 Craftsmen Bring Christmas" will present to the community a show devoted to a display of one-of-a-kind work for individual Christmas gift giving.

There will be a benefit drawing Friday night, Dec. 6 and tickets are available from Derek Rayne's or at the La Playa Hotel where the event is being held.

Stores in Carmel will remain open until 9 p.m. on Friday and Saturday nights during this event, and also on the weekend evenings until Christmas. Examples of the type of crafts and art available are on display at Derek Rayne's and the Carmel Library.

Works shown will range from original drawings by nationally known cartoonists Charles Schulz, Gus Arriola, Eldon Dedini and Frank O'Neal to pottery by Rudi Marzi, and many other works including short art films, ceramic objects, metal sculpture, wood painting, and leather clothing.

A fashion show will be held during the event by three local original designers: Maloa, Lilli and Ghar, and Mary May.

A donation of $1.00 for admission will apply toward tickets for drawing for three distinctive pieces of work by participating craftsmen Friday.

Other nights free admission.

FROM A LIBRARIAN'S NOTEBOOK

By Ruth Galvin Thornburg, City Librarian

From the McNaughton rental service we have received several books worth mentioning here.

Two of them are so big and heavy they are wearying to hold. It seems to this librarian that journalism schools should teach a course in Verbosity and How to Avoid It.

The propensity to turn out books weighing two and a half pounds has increased to the point of absurdity.

From these bitter remarks we progress smoothly to the first big book which is MOMENT IN CAMELOT by Maggie Rennert. Billed as a woman's novel, it is a gentle story of Washington where else is Camelot? and of the people we elect to go there, and what they do after they get there. Home town folks in Camelot.

THY DAUGHTER'S NAKEDNESS is the title of Myron Kaufmann's new novel. The title has Biblical reference, albeit indirectly. It is a story of Jewish people in an eastern city and especially the story of Millicent Gordon and her maturing.

She was a strange girl, the stuffy daughter of a rabbi, who always seemed to make the staid tried-and-true remarks she had heard her parents make. This is the second fat book and while Kaufmann writes very well, somehow it seems that Millicent's virginity and troubles with love simply do not justify all those pounds of print.

Like Tom Thumb, when he found himself in the inside of a cow, we feel like calling out, "No more hay, please! No more hay!"

Patrick Dennis has a host of admirers who will welcome his new book HOW FIRM A FOUNDATION. It was written in fun, and one reviewer called it "sheer insanityville."

For those readers who enjoy living over World War I, we have SQUADRON SHILLING by Arch Whitehouse. Aerial combat and espionage, this book is tailor-made for the old in years but young in heart.

And then we have a collection of short stories by Saul Bellow. Entitled MOSBY'S MEMOIRS, it is a collection of six tales the writing of which spanned a period of thirteen years.

Mr. Bellow has twice won the National Book Award, which is an honor bestowed by the National Book Committee. Anyone who remembers the depression will enjoy the oldest story of the lot. Written in 1951, it is entitled LOOKING FOR MR. GREEN. Now this is good writing!

Two biographies have recently been done on the Beatles. The better of the two is by Hunter Davies and, wonder of wonders, is entitled THE BEATLES. The practice of assigning crazy, coy, or elongated titles to new books is embittering the lives of a lot of us book-oriented people.

One interesting thing is that the author has included a short series of photographs of each of the four men.

We have THE DAY KENNEDY WAS SHOT by Jim Bishop. If you can stand going over that day minute by minute, borrow the book.

And finally, let us call your attention to the new biography of Martin Luther King Jr., which is called by his name, and which tells the story of his life with sympathetic exactitude. Two great leaders martyred in senseless savageness.

Photography Show For Art Museum

The December exhibit at the Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art will be the Sixth Annual Photographic Invitational. This exhibition, which always generates a great amount of interest among the viewing public, will include work by photographers from throughout California. Titled "Christmas Collector's Show", this exhibit is unusual because it is one of the few Museum shows during the year where the works for sale — and it has proved to be a near sell-out in the past.

The show will include work by such well-known photographers as: Gene Antisdel of San Jose, Jack Cakebread of Oakland, Ed Cismondi of San Jose, Philip Hyde of Taylorsville, William LaRue of Castro Valley, Wally Macgallird of Hollywood. Well known local photographer artists Peter McArthur of Carmel Valley, Steve Crouch of Carmel, Liliane De Cock, of Carmel, Richard Garrod of Monterey, Henry Gilpin of Monterey and Al Weber, recently of Seaside now of San Francisco.

These last 5 camera artists are also currently displaying their work at the University of Redlands in a show which also includes Ansel Adams, Wynn Bullock, and Brett Weston.

The Photography Show will be on display from Dec. 7 through Jan. 4 at the Museum on Lincoln St., between Ocean and 7th, in Carmel. Gallery hours are 11 to 5 Monday through Friday, and 2 to 5 on Saturdays. The Gallery is closed on Sundays, and will also be closed on Dec. 24, 25, 31, and Jan. 1.

Lion In Winter Playing To SRO At Circle

Attendance at Carmel's Circle Theatre is going over-the-top these week-ends.

Despite the SRO sign last Friday night there were enthusiastic standees who refused to be turned away from the performance of "The Lion in Winter," a feast of biting wit, high intrigue and illicit love about England's 12th century King Henry II, his astonishing Queen Eleanor of Aguitaine, his unscrupulous mistress, Alais Capet and his three royal sons, plus the dastardly Philip, King of France.

Anglophiles and romantic history buffs from far and wide are travelling to the little theatre-in-the-round.

Sunday night's audience included a large group of theatre-lighting students from Monterey Peninsula College as well as a party of Carmel High School history students.

Directed by Michael Keller "The Lion in Winter" has won rave notices in the local press for superb performances given by the players of the Golden Bough.

Classroom Lack Worries Board

What to do about the shortage of classrooms at the middle school and high school level was the topic of a study and discussion at the meeting of the Carmel School Board last Wednesday.

Carmel Schools Supt. Harris A. Taylor was emphatic that an early decision by the board was necessary in order to adequately plan for expansion.

The proposal that the fifth grade be held back was considered to be only a temporary solution; the proposal that the high school be made a three-year school inconsistent with board policy.

The committee to study the possibilities of a year round school has not yet reported to the board, but a preliminary report indicates unfavorable response.

Taylor said the greatest need was construction on the large 40 acre middle school site to hold the high school. The present 27 acre high school site which has reached capacity, would then be converted to Middle use. The switch would take two years to complete from the time it is decided upon.

Projected enrollments indicate that more middle and high school age children will move in to the expensive Carmel area than elementary age children, according to Taylor.

Satire Subject of Hoppe Appearance

Newspaper columnist Art Hoppe will speak on "Satire and Other Blunt Instruments" — a subject on which he is certainly the Northern California expert — Friday, Dec. 6, at Monterey Peninsula College.

His lecture will begin at 8 p.m. in the National Guard Armory at MPC. Free tickets are available at the college community services office or may be obtained by mail when requests are accompanied by stamped, self-addressed envelopes.

Hoppe is also the author of three books: "The Love Everybody Crusade," "Dreamboat" and "The Perfect Solution to Absolutely Everything."

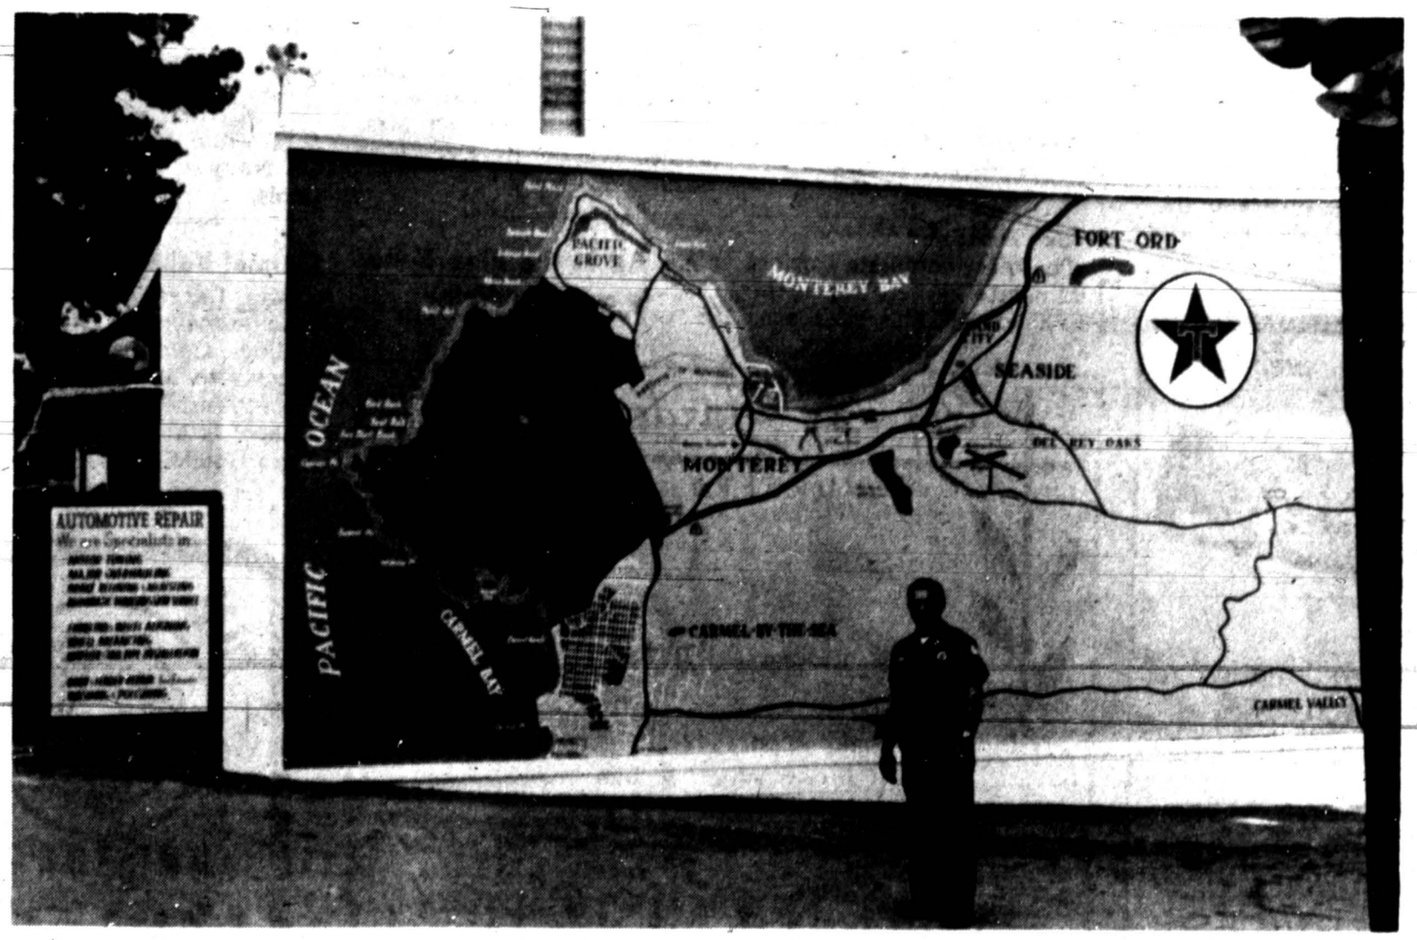
CARMEL BUSINESS PERSONALITIES



Dale B. Leidig, owner of Leidig's Texaco Automotive Repair Service, has just about the biggest map in town.

Dale B. Leidig has a map laid out to scale of the entire peninsula. The original map was put up in 1931 and Leidig replaced it with a new one in 1955. He had a photographer take the picture over the top of Carmel and then a map-designer laid it out to scale.

Over the years, the huge map has become a landmark to Carmelites, and hundreds of tourists have found their way around the city with greater ease because of the guidance of Leidig's public service.

Leidig, who has owned the Texaco station since 1951, offers a great variety of services at his automotive repair service, including painting, body and fender work, all forms of automotive repair and a new feature, complete electronic tune-ups.

Leidig has one of the few stations that offers this new electronic equipment. Known as "Sun," this equipment will electronically tune your engine, offering a faster and more complete tune-up with pin-point accuracy.

Having been in the automotive business for more than 45 years, Leidig originally worked at this present location in 1931, before Texaco took over, when it was a car agency with multiple-type gas pumps in front. He later opened up his own station, eventually sold it, and returned in 1951 to the original site to take over as owner of the Texaco station.

OLYMPICS

Games tire — The players weary grow, and faint
And in some inning down along the line
Forget it is a game:
A race to run, a disc to throw
And faces fresh with laughter turn
Tear-streaked, and taut with strain.
And some grow anxious,
Some turn cruel,
Some cheat.

Traces of their pattern dim.
Here amid confusion, screeching, blame,
I some days think I'll lose my mind
Oh You, Who keep the score,
Call time.

Poet Phillips Kloss, formerly of Carmel, has a new book out, "Force and Fate" (Naylor), in limited edition.

New Book of Phillips Kloss Poetry

Phillips Kloss, a one-time resident of Carmel, ranking poet of the Southwest, is the author of a new book of verse. FORCE AND FATE, released this month by The Naylor Company, is a volumn of selected poems dealing with the unique characteristics of New Mexico.

While Phillips Kloss and his artist wife, Gene, are now living in Cory, Colorado, they have a new studio built atop a sagebrush mesa in Taos, New Mexico.

Speaking of his years in Carmel, Kloss says, "At one time I almost bought a house here with three acres of land and a private beach, all for a reasonable price." Instead of a private beach in Carmel, Phillips and Gene Kloss have settled for their own sagebrush mesa.

Laurie Hammonds Sets The Date

The wedding of Laurie Hammonds and Timothy Richard Hall whose engagement was announced by her mother, Mrs. Jesse Coe and Mr. Coe, of Pebble Beach, in June has been set for Dec. 21 in the Carmel Mission Basilica. The reception will be held at Del Monte Lodge.

Among her attendants will be her sister, Mary, a student at Santa Catalina, Kay Sparolini of Carmel who attends the University of California at Santa Barbara, and Tammy Day of Pebble Beach who will be home for the holidays from Oldfield School in Maryland.

Although Laurie is in her sophomore year at the University of the Pacific in Stockton, she will join Tim at Fresno State College in January. Tim was graduated from Monterey Peninsula College in June.

A luncheon shower for Laurie was given recently by Mrs. Harry Lusignan at Wits End, their home in Pebble Beach. Present were Mrs. Coe, Tim's mother, Mrs. Richard Hall of Carmel Valley, and Laurie's grandmothers, Mrs. W. J. Hammonds of Aptos and Mrs. Edwin Andersen of Santa Cruz.

Bagpipe Procession Follows Wedding

A charming wedding in which children and bagpipes played a part took place recently in Palo Alto when Lynn Holden Spencer, was married to John F. Carlsen of Palo Alto.

Lynn graduated from Sunset school and lived here until her parents, the Peter T. Spencers, moved to Palo Alto.

Mrs. Ernest W. Travis of Carmel, Lynn's grandmother, made her dress and those of the attendants, assisted by Lynn's aunt, Mrs. Anton Hrusha.

Her dress, which Lynn hopes will be handed down, was of satin, banded with lace on the sleeves, hemline and train. She carried an heirloom Bible with white roses and stephanotis.

Her attendants included her three young sisters, Deanne and Robin Spencer, with Elizabeth, as flower girl. Claudia Hrusa, her cousin, was another. Their dresses were of avocado green satin, trimmed with darker green velvet; their nosegay flowers in autumn shades. Her maid of honor was Miriam Busby of Palo Alto.

Peter Spencer, Lynn's young brother, was junior usher. Other ushers included her brother-in-law, Claude Long.

After the wedding the wedding guests followed the bagpiper, Dave Bennett of Monterey, across the street from the First Presbyterian Church to the Spencer home for the reception.

Others present from the Peninsula were Mr. Travis, Debbie Smith, Lynn Larsen and Peter Hansen.

After a honeymoon in Mexico City where Lynn was born, the couple will live in Menlo Park. Lynn is now a student at Foothill College. Her husband, a graduate of UC Berkeley, is an electronics engineer.

PINE NEEDLES

By MARGOT HYATT — Call 624-3881

Sculptor Celebrates 99th Birthday

One of Carmel's most distinguished sculptors, Louis Mayer, celebrated his 99th birthday last week.

The day started out normally enough when he, on the piano, and his wife Dora, on the cello, were playing German chorales as they usually do every morning. Dora Hagemeyer, his wife, is the dearly loved poet who for over 20 years served as poetry editor of the Pine Cone.

They were soon interrupted by phone calls of congratulation from friends and family. Calls came from Milwaukee where Louis Mayer was born; from Germany where he studied painting many years before changing to sculpture; and from Fishkill, New York, where they still maintain the studio where they lived before they returned permanently to Carmel 11 years ago.

As the day went on, nearby friends and neighbors came by to see him. His son Philip and his wife from Visalia arrived for his birthday to stay for the Thanksgiving weekend.

The name of Dora Hagemeyer was inadvertantly left off of her poem, "Thanksgiving Song," which we ran last week.

A THANKSGIVING VISITOR to Carmel was four months-old Laura Cook, who with her mother, Linda, was here visiting her grandparents, Louise and Allman Cook. Laura's father Lt. j.g. Michael Cook (USN) has been under fire at Danang, Vietnam. He will have his first opportunity to see the baby during his six day rest and recreation period in Hawaii, the second week in December.

U.N. Dinner Dance Tree Dedication

A dinner dance has been planned by the United Nations Committee for the evening of Friday, Dec. 13 at 6:30. It will be held at the New Monterey Neighborhood Center, at the corner of Lighthouse and Dickman.

The dance will benefit the transportation fund to bring black teachers here from the South, which has an $800 deficit, and other welfare projects.

For tickets, call Dr. Ann Nowell at 659-4049 or Roger Lorenz at 624-8261, extension 417.

Tree Dedication

To celebrate Human Rights Day on Tuesday, Dec. 10, an olive tree will be planted at Martin Luther King Jr. High School at the end of Broadway in Seaside.

The 11 o'clock ceremony will honor the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. winner of the Nobel Peace prize. It is hoped that the tree will symbolize his hopes, and the nearby boulder plaque the universal declaration of human rights that live in the dreams and aspirations of mankind.

The Rev. Karel Vit of the Unitarian Church will give the invocation. The Rev. George Ridgeway of St. James Episcopal Church, will talk on universal human rights. Rev. T. R. McKenney, of the Hayes Methodist Church, will give a tribute to Rev. King.

Son, John IV, and daughter, Sebree Ann, who had attended Carmel Mission and Carmel High Schools are now students in the Taipei American High School where John IV is a Senior and Sebree a Sophomore. Sons, Christopher and Alexander who attended Carmel Mission are now students in the Dominican Catholic School of Taipei.

All find the orient inviting, intriguing, and are taking this opportunity to learn and appreciate the cultures, traditions and life in a different part of this world. Pen Pals are encouraged to write. Address: Box 11, ARSEC, MAAG, APO San Francisco 96263.

Altar Society Christmas Party

Members of the Altar Society of Carmel Mission Basilica, will join in their annual Christmas gathering with exchange of gifts among the members. As usual, the meeting will be held at Crespi Hall, and members will note the date, Dec. 12 at 2 p.m.

The hostesses who will serve tea, are Mmes. Alvin Terrera, Erna Roland, Matt Smith and Miss Margaret Blackburn.

Professor and Mrs. Taeuber Honored

The warm and gracious home of Mr. James M. R. Glaser was the setting for a reception Sunday afternoon, honoring Professor and Mrs. Haymo Taeuber and hosted by the board of directors of the Monterey County Symphony Association. Christmas decor and Christmas cheer both contributed to the pre-holiday mood.

The tea table was centered by a most appropriate arrangement of greens and musical instruments including a toy red piano which played.

A few of those present among the large music loving group included Mr. and Mrs. Webster Downer, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stanton, the Philip C. Smiths, Howard Bucquets, Cecil Barkers, Mrs. Alfred Castle and Mrs. Frank Ringland.

Alliance Christmas Party

Co-presidents of the local Alliance Francaise, Mmes. Sean Flavin and James Hathaway have announced the plans for the Alliance's annual Christmas fete.

This popular event will take place at the Carmel Valley Inn at 3 p.m. on Sunday, Dec. 15.

Mrs. Jack Longfellow is chairman and is making arrangements for refreshments, group singing of French Christmas carols and other entertainment. The Patisserie Boissiere of Carmel is donating a special "Buche de Noel" (Yule Log Cake) and members are also bringing small gifts to exchange around the decorated Christmas tree.

Members, their families and guests, accompanied by members, are urged to attend. For further information telephone Mrs. Longfellow at 659-4789.

Birthday Party for Genevieve Armanasco

Mrs. August (Genevieve) Armanasco was given a warm demonstration of the love and tenderness her many friends feel for her when a sumptious buffet and cocktail party for 50 people was given her by Mr. and Mrs. Sean Flavin of Monterey and Carmel Valley Saturday evening.

Only another Frenchwoman could design such a beautiful gourmet spread, and Jacqueline Flavin was assisted by many of the guests, some of whom curtailed or postponed other projects so as not to miss the party.

Genevieve has lived here so long and has contributed so much to the community, it was an opportunity for her friends to try to make up for all the ill health she has suffered.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Coburn came down from San Francisco and Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Franklin came up from Los Angeles for the party.

Two Little Girls

Two little girls arrived at Community Hospital recently: Dianna Denise for Mr. and Mrs. John N. Anton on Nov. 20 and Lisa Michelle for Mr. and Mrs. Michael H. Hartignoni on Nov. 22.

PARTY PLANS . . .

"Let's Dine By The Rhine"

Along the banks of the Rhine is where we'll find enchantment via Explorerama Carmel. The last of this season's cinema showings takes place on Saturday, December 7 at 8:15 p.m. at the Sunset Auditorium. The film is "Valley of the Rhine."

Beginning at the Rhine's source in Switzerland, we'll be so enthralled by the beauty of the scenery, would it be better to dine before we're overcome by all this grandeur? It might be difficult to entertain at an after-cinema supper with one's mind on the castles, especially when our suggestions require a bit of skill, concentration and "with-it."

That's part of our effort to show "what-to-to" about a gemutlich (fun) buffet supper, German style.

"Vater Rhein" (Father Rhine) is what the Germans call their river. Beethoven was born nearby and Goethe did his dreaming-turned-into-writing; Wagner composed his operas and Hitler . . . . Now to food, of today and yesterday.

Actually there's nothing more delicate than salmon. We're fortunate to have silver salmon here in our supermarkets at a so-called reasonable price. But think how much it would cost to go out and fish for them right now.

A fine go-along with fresh salmon is the underground-grown specialty white asparagus. Europeans always use big fat sweet and tender white asparagus stalks which have never seen the sun. Green asparagus as we know it is not served.

Cold Poached Salmon

One whole salmon (about 7 lbs.); 5 bay leaves; 4 slices of onion; 2 t. salt; ½ t. allspice; 1 pinch fresh tarragon; 1 qt. dry white wine; green mayonnaise; garnishes. Serves 10.

Wrap cleaned and scaled whole fresh salmon in double layer of cheesecloth. Place on rack in fish cooker or large kettle with inverted platter in bottom. Add seasonings and wine. Cover and simmer gently, allowing about 10 minutes per lb. Lift out carefully; remove cheesecloth and trim away, then discard skin. Place fish on platter and refrigerate covered loosely with foil. Just at serving decorate with mayonnaise made green with finely minced watercress, raw spinach and chives, lemon juice and salt to taste.

Sprinkle with paprika and make a pattern of capers, radish roses, lemon slices, stuffed olives and chopped hard cooked eggs. Sliced unpeeled cucumbers are a good side dish. Marinate them in a vinaigrette sauce.

White Asparagus

Two large cans imported white asparagus; 1 tsp. sugar; 3 T. vegetable oil and white wine vinegar, each; 1 chopped challot or green onion with tops; 2 finely chopped gherkins; 1½ t. minced dill; capers, chopped hard cooked egg; salt, pepper and paprika to taste. Serves 10.

Open chilled cans and drain asparagus. Place it on serving platter. Make a sauce from other items and pour over asparagus. Garnish with radish roses and surround with Bibb lettuce hearts.

Steaks Rhineland

Two top sirloin steaks (1½ inches thick, 2½ to 3 lbs. each); make stuffing with 2 (4-oz.) cans sliced mushrooms, drained; 2 (2-oz.) cans sliced pimiento, drained; ½ cup each snipped prunes and parsley; salt and ground pepper; ½ cup sour cream. Skewers: 10 pickle slices; 1 (7½-oz.) can whole onions, drained; 10 stuffed green olives; 10 Holland rusks. Serves 10.

Cut steaks into 10 portions; then cut a pocket in each steak. Reserve half of pimiento slices and chop the rest. Add pimiento to mushrooms with next 2 items with salt and pepper to taste. Stir in sour cream and blend well. Use this mixture to fill steak pockets. Secure opening with small skewers. Sprinkle outsides with salt and pepper. When guests have almost finished the first course of salmon and asparagus, served on separate salad plates, broil the steaks for 20 minutes, turning once. Remove skewers and thread with pickle slices, onions and olives; insert into steaks. Place on rusks.

Purchase the potato salad at your favorite market and season it with sour cream or yogurt and a dash of wine vinegar and chopped chives. Black bread, rye and pumpernickel, with sweet butter is the accepted accompaniment. The steaks can be prepared in advance and refrigerated. Broil 20 minutes before serving or keep hot on electric table server.

Peach Dessert Cake

Two cups sifted flour; 3 t. baking powder; ¾ cup sugar; ½ cup butter; ¼ t. salt; grated rind of 1 lemon; 1 egg; ½ cup milk; 9 peach halves, canned.

Topping: ¼ cup sugar; 1 T. flour; 1 egg yolk; 2 T cream.

Stir first 3 items together. Cut in butter with 2 knives or pastry blender. Add 1 tsp. grated lemon rind. Beat egg, salt and milk together and add, stirring just enough to blend. Turn into buttered 9-inch square pan and spread with peaches, lemon rind and the sugar. The best way to add the flour is by sprinkling it over the peaches and cake. Beat egg yolk with cream and dribble over surface. Cover pan loosely with foil and bake 20 minutes at 325° F. or until golden brown. Serve warm with cream. Serves 6, so make two cakes for larger group.

Rhine Wine Cooler

Four limes, juice and grated peel; 2/3 cup sugar; 1 cup sliced strawberries; 2 bottles (4/5 qt. each). Rhine wine, chilled. Makes 10 punch glasses.

Combine lime juice and peel; add sugar and berries. Heat slowly while mashing the berries, until sugar is dissolved. Put the mixture through food mill or sieve. While still hot, pour over ice. Stir until cold. Add chilled wine and stir gently to mix. Garnish with half a berry, each. It might be more simple to serve Rhine Spritzers made by filling tall glasses half full with Rhine wine. Add ice cubes, cold club soda and mint sprigs. Or you can find the magic of the Rhine in Asbach brandy, an excellent old product served with seltzer water.

"Rheinland, Weinland!" On second thought, perhaps with all this food and wine, it might be wiser to serve this guten appetit supper after the viewing of "Valley of the Rhine" so as not to miss anything. Drowsiness is not prescribed.

Movie Review

El Greco — Mel Ferrer is the fiery Domenico Theotocopoulos, "El Greco" of art fame. Shot on location in Toledo, Spain. Rosanna Schiaffine, a former "Miss Italy," plays opposite Ferrer.

Guns for San Sebastian — Anthony Quinn, Anjanette Comer, Charles Bronson and Sam Jaffe. Adventure drama about one segment of Mexico's fight for freedom.

Gone With the Wind — Returning to Monterey is this classic American motion picture. It seems unnecessary to state that it is set in the South during and after the Civil War, and that the stars are Clark Gable Vivien Leigh, Leslie Howard and Olivia deHavilland.

Rachel, Rachel — Paul Newman directs his wife, Joanne Woodward, in this story about a small-town school teacher. Sentimental but not mawkish. Highly recommended.

Stay Away, Joe — Elvis Presley as a roistering Indian rodeo rider who has a scheme to improve the living conditions of his people living on a reservation.

2001: A Space Odyssey — Far reaches of space explored in this splendid, highly imaginative science-fiction production. Keir Dullea, Gary Lockwood. Wonderful entertainment.

Coogan's Bluff — Arizona sheriff Clint Eastwood goes to New York to bring back a murder suspect, meets LSD and other adventures before he returns to the clean-aired West.

Barbarella — Jane Fonda in the year 40,000. Ray guns, love making, strange perils. From a French comic strip of the same name.

Lady In Cement — Sinatra as Tony Rome, private eye. Dan Blocker of Bonanza tv as the heavy. Raquel Welch as a gal with lots of dough. Why do some people have everything?

Secret Life of An American Wife — Walter Matthau and Ann Jackson in this adult comedy. With Walter Matthau in any film, who needs reviews?

CASTLE ON THE RHINE — This is the Castle of Pfalz, one of many island castles seen on the Explorerama presentation of "The Valley of the Rhine," coming to the Sunset Auditorium on Saturday, Dec. 7.

'Valley of the Rhine' Last 1968 Explorerama At Sunset Dec. 7

The award winning travel and adventure film "Valley of the Rhine" will be narrated in person by Russ Potter at 8:15 p.m., Saturday, Dec. 7 at Carmel's Sunset Auditorium.

The film, which is the final program of the Explorers Club series for 1968, includes footage taken in Switzerland, Germany and Holland.

Russ Potter, the in-person narrator, is the script writer and narrator of the famed Pageant of the Masters of the annual Laguna Beach Festival of the Arts.

The film begins at Lake Thomas, a tiny lake high in the Swiss Alps and the source of this major European waterway, which, although only 820 miles in length, offers unsurpassed beauty and interest in its short journey to the sea.

Russ Potter narrates the film through Liechtenstein, Lake Constance, stops over in the Black Forest, meanders through the castle and vineyard country before Cologne, takes a look at modern, revitalized Germany as epitomized by the Ruhr District, and finally stops at the mouth of the Rhine in Holland.

Reserved seats are on sale at Central Box Office in Carmel and Abinante Music Store in Monterey. They will also be available at Sunset Auditorium after 7:15 Saturday evening (Dec. 7).

Casting Call For New Studio Play

The Studio Theatre on Dolores St., Carmel, will hold auditions on Sunday at 2:30 p.m. to select a cast for its postponed production of "Under The Yum Yum Tree."

The Lawrence Roman comedy is now scheduled to open Jan. 31 for a run of seven weekends.

The lead role of Hogan, the unprincipled but ingratiating landlord, calls for a man-of-the-world type in his thirties or forties. The young couple engaged in a platonic experiment in communal living should be between 18 and 25. The cast of four is rounded out by a stylish attractive woman mature enough to play the girl's aunt.

Line study will start at once, but actual rehearsals will not begin until after Christmas. Anyone unable to attend the Sunday auditions may call director Dave Kirk at 624-1661 or 624-2321 to arrange another time.

Camera Club Meets

The Dec. 5th meeting of the Padre Trails Camera Club will feature an unusual collection of slides of San Francisco, made by members of the Photochrome Camera Club of the Bay area. The many gifted members of this club have collaborated to create this series of pictures, which will be presented by Miss Sherry Ballard, one of America's outstanding photographers.

The meeting will take place in Brey Hall, Carmel High School, at 8 p.m.

New Kip's Food Center Owners Will Retain Store's Character

"We're pleased that the new owners of Kip's Food Center plan to retain the character of the store," declared retiring owners William Arley Smith and his wife Geraldine.

Taking possession Dec. 1 of the 64-year-old Ocean Ave. grocery business were Ratzi and Sarah Cavaliere of Monterey, their nephew Vince Bruno and his wife Olga, of Salinas.

"It's the only piece of old Carmel still left on the main street — a dinosaur!" laughed Gerry Smith. She pointed to a crack in the balcony wall. "The earthquake of 1906," she explained.

The Smiths bought the business 18 years ago from Lewis Poulos of Carmel. In the 1930's Ratzi Cavaliere worked for him. Poulos left the area for a time, and on his return went to work for Smith. He is still at Kip's — working for his former employee.

The property, purchased by Robert and Isabel Leidig in 1913, still belongs to the late Mrs. Leidig's estate. The store name derives from Kip Silvey of Carmel, who managed it for a chain prior to Poulos' proprietorship.

The Smiths haven't had time to decide "what next" beyond some leisure. But except for gardening at their Shafter Way home, Bill's free time won't go to sports.

"He had enough of that," guessed Gerry. "Six years of professional football after being All-American at the University of Washington." She hopes he will resume his hobby of furniture carving which, she says, "he does beautifully."

Camera Club Officers

New officers of the Padre Trails Camera Club which meets on first and third Thursday evenings at 8 p.m. at Brey Hall, Carmel High School, were introduced at a recent dinner meeting at the Monterey Elks Club.

Retiring president Laura Durgin of Carmel introduced the new president, Ernest Victorine, who announced the new slate of officers and chairmen.

Frederick Capen of Carmel, will be contest chairman; Mrs. H. Gilman Smith, publicity; Mrs. Emily Williams of Carmel Valley and Mrs. Arthur Thorsen of Monterey, refreshments.

Holiday Plans

Both Boy Scout troops are meeting regularly in Carmel in their Scout hut across from Sunset Center.

John F. Martin is Scoutmaster of Troop 86 which meets Monday evenings. He has led the troop for three years and before that was assistant for four years. He has been active in Scouting for 28 years, having received the Beaver award in 1959.

Cmdr. Bob Pelton is Scoutmaster of Troop 32. He teaches at the Naval Postgraduate School.

Haerle, Smith, LePine Combo In Jazz Concert At MPC Dec. 7

Pianist Dan Haerle, a member of the Monterey Peninsula College music faculty, will be assisted by John Smith, bass player with the Stan Kenton Orchestra, and Jim LePine, currently drummer with the Ace Hill Trio, in a jazz trio concert Saturday, Dec. 7, 8:30 p.m. in the MPC music hall.

The concert is open to the public and students without charge.

New this year at the college, Haerle has had considerable playing experience in jazz clubs in the Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and Dallas, Texas, area. He has also done extensive recording work. For three years he was pianist with the famed North Texas Lab Band and toured widely with that group.

He participated with the North Texas group in a concert at the State Department Auditorium, Washington, D. C.; a joint concert with Stan Kenton's Neophonic Orchestra at the Los Angeles Music Center; and a command performance for the king and queen of Thailand at the White House.

In addition he has been called upon to back up on piano such well-known performers as Doc Severinson, Bud Brisbois and Clark Terry; and at Kansas University's Oread Jazz Festival in 1964, he was named "best rhythm instrument player."

At MPC, to which he came after seven years' teaching experience in Texas and the Middle West, Haerle, a classically schooled pianist, teaches theory and piano and directs the jazz ensemble and jazz rehearsal bands which played for a "standing room only" audience in concert Nov. 22 at the college.

Bassist John Smith who will fly to Monterey from Los Angeles to participate in the MPC concert, played with Johnny Mathis, Sy Zentner and other professional bands before joining Kenton.

Drummer LePine is a professional musician from Chicago, where he played with several studio groups. A California resident for three years, he now teaches professionally on the Peninsula and works with the Ace Hill Trio.

TRUCK DAMAGE — The corner of Aage Khudsen's Royal Danish Bakery at 7th and Dolores was rammed Thanksgiving morning by a truck registered to Mel Girotti & Co. of Monterey. The truck brakes reportedly slipped and it back into the building. Johnny Wills Porter, 1615 Vallejo St., Seaside was identified as the driver.

Temporary Bridge

Motorists north- and southbound on Highway 101 will be passing beneath a temporary steel bridge in the vicinity of the Prunedale Junction with Route 156.

This steel beam structure will be used by the contractor, Peter Kiewit Sons' Company, to haul excavated material from the east side of 101 to the west where it will be placed in the embankments of the new interchange.

The haul-road bridge will be in use for the next four months and has a minimum vertical clearance of 17 feet. It will be signed, lighted at night, and the median pier will have the familiar black and orange luminescent hachures or stripes alerting approaching motorists to highway construction in progress.

Association Officers

Arnold Drake of Seaside, Monterey Peninsula College student union manager, was elected president of MPCEA No. 245, college chapter of the California School Employees Association, at a meeting Friday.

Carmel Travelers

(John and Nancy Livingstone, Carmel residents, are residing in Switzerland while their daughters attend Swiss schools. This is the second in a series of letters they have writen the Pine Cone.)

Buying a Used Car —

Once we had comfortably established ourselves in an apartment on a mountainside overlooking Villars, the need for an automobile became quite apparent.

It's about a ten-minute walk down the winding road to the village, but coming back on foot is quite another story.

The Swiss have a public transportation system beyond compare in efficiency, cleanliness and availability, so long as you live right in town, but we soon found trudging up the mountain laden with groceries, laundry and our cameras was no picnic, especially in the rain.

After a little over a week or this we decided the time had come to buy a used car, so we happily walked down to the village for what we expected to be the last time, boarded the cog train which took us down to Bex, changed to the regular train and got off at Montreux, a bustling city at the east end of Lake Geneva.

The first thing we found was that there didn't seem to be any used car lots as we know them in California.

New-car dealers have a scant selection of used cars hidden away in their garages, as if they are ashamed of them. The first dealer we approached was a study in nonchalance and indifference.

When we asked about some sort of guarantee, it was as if he had heard the word for the first time. Then we stated our intention to buy a car that afternoon and to drive it back to Villars, and he shook his head in disbelief. By this time we were getting tired of his apparent lack of good business sense, and decided to look elsewhere.

A taxi took us to the local Ford dealer, where we were warmly greeted by a distinguished looking salesman in his late fifties. When I explained to him that we wished to buy a car right away, he heartily agreed that this was possible, and showed us the cars he had available. We decided on a 1963 Taunus with front-wheel drive, especially well-suited for mountain and winter driving. With a feeling of immense relief I headed with him to his office to sign the necessary papers and to hand over the cash.

But it wasn't that simple.

He patiently explained to me that while it is possible to buy a used car quickly, it was impossible to take delivery for at least five days, because according to Swiss Cantonal law, every used car, prior to delivery, must undergo a very thorough mechanical inspection for any defects called "expertise". This inspection is carried out by the Cantonal authorities at a cost of about $23.00 (which includes license plates) to the purchaser.

The seller must correct all defects and sign a certification to this effect, before the buyer can take delivery. So, instead of driving back to Villars in our new used car, we accepted the salesman's generous offer to drive us back in his car. The trip from Montreux to Villars, a distance of about thirty miles, part of which is up a twisting mountain road, took about fifty minutes, compared to about an hour and a half by train and cog-train.

Five days later, we were ceremoniously presented with the keys of a mechanically perfect used car with four brand-new tires (evidently prescribed by the "expertise" inspection). Since that time we have driven more than 3,000 miles of mountain highways and roads through northern Italy, Austria, Liechtenstein and Switzerland, and found that the "expertise" inspection had paid off in completely care-free driving.

Jogging

Jogging is an exercise designed to stimulate circulation through an up-and-down movement of the legs and arms. Medical authorities consider jogging a preventive measure in heart disease. Before taking up this exercise, visit your physician for a check-up, especially if you are overweight or have a history of heart trouble. Once you start jogging, follow a systematic schedule faithfully.

Glasser Fund

The Rose Mary Glasser Memorial Fund, "to be used at the discretion of Monterey Peninsula College for financial assistance to students," was created by a citizens' group recently.

The late Mrs. Martin Glasser, a resident of Monterey, was a tireless volunteer worker in school and college bond campaigns and other community projects).

Agreeing that "Rose Mary would probably be most pleased if, thanks to her, some help was given to students who might not otherwise be able to consider continuing their education," the group questioned Dr. Jack Bessire, MPC dean of student personnel, on the college's financial aids program.

Contributions should be mailed to the college in care of Dr. Bessire, with checks to be made payable to "Monterey Peninsula College, and earmarked for "The Rose Mary Glasser Memorial Fund."

Blood Donations At MPC Library

As a result of the efforts of three students in collecting pledges to donate blood, a blood drive will be staged at Monterey Peninsula College Thursday, Dec. 19, instead of at the Monterey USO as originally planned by the Monterey County Chapter of the American Red Cross.

The drawing will be conducted in the MPC library lecture hall from 10:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., according to Miss Shirley Vergeer, college nurse.

Purpose of the pledge collection by students Al Viewig, Tom Arnold and Mike von Kleist was to urge prospective donors to earmark their contributions for Brett and Mark Leach, hospitalized sons of MPC political science instructor Jack Leach and Mrs. Leach.

More than 100 names were obtained. Members of the public who attend the drive are also urged by the student committee to donate "for the Leach boys."

Christian Science Bible Lesson

"For thus saith the Lord that created the heavens; God himself that formed the earth and made it; he hath established it, he created it not in vain, he formed it to be inhabited: I am the Lord; and there is none else."

These words of Isaiah are part of the Scriptural readings in the Bible lesson-son title "God the Only Cause and Creator" to be read in all Christian Science churches this Sunday.

One of the correlative passages taken from the denominational textbook will be the following: "Spiritual causation is the one question to be considered, for more than all others spiritual causation relates to human progress. The age seems ready to approach this subject, to ponder somewhat the supremacy of Spirit, and at least to touch the hem of Truth's garment." (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy).

Community Church Schedules Events

Community Church of the Monterey Peninsula on Carmel Valley Road will once again be the setting for the fabulous "Christmas Collage" presented by the Filia Circle of the church on Friday, Dec. 6 from noon to 8 p.m. and Saturday, Dec. 7 from 10 to 4.

Members, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Fern Wheatland, have put together an array of jams, jellies, fruit cakes, cookies, preserves and relishes, plus the wonderful home-made candies, concocted in the kitchen of a peninsula notable.

Beautifully made wreaths, ornaments, decorating materials, miniatures, and herb gardens will be offered for sale along with lovely gift items for the home and for children.

A special attraction will be freshly made hot German doughnuts served with coffee during the Saturday sale.

In observance of the Advent Season, the Community Church will present a series of candlelight Vesper Services for the coming three Sunday afternoons at 4 p.m., with the Rev. Burkert Cree reading the devotionals.

The first service will be presented on Sunday, Dec. 8 and will be a Choral Vesper with the church choir under the direction of John Farr; the following Sunday, Dec. 15, will feature an Organ Vesper and on the afternoon of Dec. 22, the Sunday School department will present a Children's Vesper service.

Watchtower Group Convention Dec. 6

It's convention time again for Monterey peninsula Jehovah's Witnesses.

The two local congregagations at a religious gathering, Dec. 6-8 at Santa Cruz County Fairgrounds in Watsonville. A peak attendance of 1,800 is expected on Sunday to hear Ted Jaracz, district director of the group, speak on the subject "God's Way Is Love."

According to Francis Goetz presiding minister for Pacific Grove Jehovah's Witnesses, 43 convention officials and their assistants met in Watsonville Oct. 19 as details were worked out for setting up and operating 22 departments to care for the needs of the conventioners.

Convention manager Nickolas Garrett of Los Gatos and his assistant Joe Pakan of Pacific Grove presided.

The convention theme "Sharing Fully in Preaching the Good News" is based on the scripture at Mark 13:10. Morning, afternoon, and evening sessions will include Bible talks, demonstrations, and discussions designed to aid instruct atending ministers in their teaching efforts.

Sponsored by the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society of Brooklyn, N. Y., these semi-annual assemblies provide Christian fellowship and spiritual uplift to those attending as they are held world wide as well as here in California.

CHRISTMAS PRESENT — Katie Woods, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Woods of Pebble Beach, was a guest at the Perry House party and received a Donald Teague water color for a Christmas present. It was titled "Wailing Wall," the framed picture at top.

CHRISTMAS PARTY — Capt. (USN Ret) and Mrs. MacKinnon Lansdowne, at rear, of Carmel, who were host and hostess at the Perry House "25-Days-'Til-Christmas" party last week, help guests Mr. and Mrs. Frank Davies of Carmel Valley select goodies at the buffet.

Christmas Gaiety At Perry House

by Louise Cook

The Christmas season was ushered in at the Perry House in Monterey with an all day and evening "25-Days-'Til-Christmas Party".

Each of the businesses located there participated in the gay hospitality.

The Perry House at night with its lighted cupola and a candle in each window is a sight not to be missed.

The Gallery was gaily decorated and hot wassail evoked the holiday mood. This month a general show of all the exhibiting artists is featured.

Donald Teague, just returned from North Africa and the Holy Land, has already completed some exciting water colors of Morocco and Jerusalem.

Katie Woods, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Woods of Pebble Beach, received her Christmas present, a "Donald Teague" of her very own.

C. C. Bell is represented by a superb canvas of horses, brimming with energy and conveying the artists poetic imagination.

Prominently displayed is one of Doris Baker's compelling seascapes.

A charming sculptured pelican by Beth Garcia nestles on a curious rock piece.

Among the other artists on display are William Timmins, Mary Agnes Lansdowne and Able Warshawsky.

First Studio In Carmel—1903

In 1902 Frank H. Powers bought land which he subdivided for the first lots in Carmel.

The following year he remodeled an old log stable which was on the property, making a studio for his wife, Jane Gallatin Powers.

The location was near today's Carmel Gate to Pebble Beach. When William Merritt Chase taught at the Arts and Crafts in Carmel, the summer of 1914, he sometimes held classes in the garden overlooking the ocean.

The children in the photograph might have been Mrs. Powers Gallatin (who now owns the famous Gallatin's Restaurant in Monterey), and Mrs. Madeleine Powers Leoni, who loaned us the family picture.

Mrs. Powers eventually took extensive art training in Europe, and an example of her work in Italy can be seen in the current show at the Carmel Museum of Art, "Roots of the Carmel Art Association," slated to close on the 12th of December.

REPORTS FROM RLS

By Peter Meckel

For whoever decided there was no such thing as perpetual motion, it would be an eye-opening experience to observe the R.L.S. campus.

Not only is the motion perpetual, it accelerates.

The opening of the winter sports season found the excellently coached basketball team win a close, but deserved, victory over Menlo.

Mr. Goodwin is bringing to the athletic program an enthusiasm and expertise which raise the accomplishment of every participant.

The varsity season includes 24 games, the junior varsity team competes 12 times, and the frosh-soph squad, under the fine coaching of Commander Kinion, has 21 contests. We look forward to basketball of the highest caliber ever seen at R.L.S.

Rehearsals for the Christmas program are now under way. Directed by Mr. Christiansen and Mrs. Garrison, the annual presentation will include several works for brass ensemble, chorus, and feature selected readings from the traditional Christmas literature.

The seniors are in the process of selecting the four members of their class who will serve as the 1968 Christmas Committee.

The seniors are in the process of selecting the four members of their class who will serve as the 1968 Christmas Committee.

A tradition founded with the beginning of the school, the Christmas Tree Ceremony is one of the high points of the school year.

The Committee selects a tree from deep in the forest and on Sunday evening, a week before vacation, the entire student body goes by lantern to the site of the tree. The Chaplain blesses the tree and Headmaster Ricklefs takes the first swing with the axe. Members of the senior class take turns chopping until the tree is felled.

It is then carried to John Lyon Reid Hall and decorated with ornaments the boys have made.

One Luxury Item for your Xmas Sock: The Sea Cradle

We don't even want to hear from you if you buy your houses by the square foot or place no dollar value on intangibles like ocean views, beaches in your front yard, moon on the surf at night, or that elusive old "Carmel Charm". But if these things do have meaning for you, then you COULD be interested in the Sea Cradle and will be delighted to know that it is offered for sale for the first time on the public market. (Present owner bought it from its long-time owners after renting it summers for years). It's little, it's adorable behind its picket fence, its ceilings are vaulted and its roof is shake, cozy fireplace, and yes, it does have a big garage. It's a few steps from the beach and off that Scenic Drive "freeway", and its price is $55,000. Take a look and see if you can hang on to your heart.

ONE-OF-KIND HOME VALUES:

1. We have an approximately 1900 square foot home, excluding the deck, on San Antonio which has an excellent ocean view when the hedge is trimmed. Its two bedrooms are on opposite corners separated by a large living room, dining room and built-in kitchen with breakfast area. The 6000-square-foot lot permits a back-around driveway to the two-car, detached, electric-eye garage as well as a secluded patio. Rare value at $67,500.
2. If you prefer a distant wave-splashing Point Lobos view from almost every room, we can provide that from our three-bedroom, two-bath, separate dining room home located on a 180-degree panaromic view cul-de-sac site. Realistically priced at $55,000.
3. Our little two-bedroom bungalow situated in rear of an oak-studded front yard and in front of a fenced rear yard up near a bus stop on Carpenter is available for $28,500.
4. If you desire a real two-story Carmel charmer with the whole upstairs being the master bedroom and bath, we have one down on Carmelo on the Point. The downstairs is two bedrooms, two baths, a large living room, a dining room and a built-in country kitchen. It is almost completely furnished and the $55,000 acquisition fee is just above the value of the two lots which comprise the site.

Edgemere Decision Reversed

set for public hearing at 8 p.m., January 8, the Council's next regular meeting date.

Two new city employees were formally hired: Collins B. Plumma, part-time animal control officer, and Raymond L. Brown, as a "forester-climber."

The first step was taken in seeking to acquire the portion of street on Santa Lucia which belongs to the County of Monterey. Santa Lucia has a width of 60 feet—50 feet of which belongs to the City of Carmel and the remaining 10 feet to the County. The matter will be brought before the Local Agencies Formation Commission which meets monthly at the courthouse in Salinas.

A gift of $300 from Mary Louise Schneeberger to be applied to care of city cypress trees at the beach south of Ocean, was appreciatively received.

County Chess Championships Saturday

The annual tournament to select the chess champion of Monterey County will take place this weekend at the Casa Alvarado Chess Center, 494 Alvarado Street, in Monterey.
